

Overview

The Converse Home provides you with an overview of your messaging activities and subscription plan details. It gives you a snapshot of all your message notifications and allows you to send a reply to those messages. You can also access the Converse Desk from here to avail all its other features.

The Converse Home also comprises the dashboard that displays the count of the outgoing and incoming message and all active and new conversations. The Key number section in the Converse Home helps you get a glimpse of pending replies and all messages sent and received. The Converse Home also provides a quick look into your subscription plans. You can upgrade your existing plans or extend trial plans.
