

9. Do the message credits I purchase, have an expiration date?

There is no expiration date for message credits. You can use your credits throughout the year, and any credits that remain at the end of the year will be carried forward to the next year.